DIFFICULTIES ENCOUNTERED IN SCHOOL WORK IN BRAZIL

Christian Sunday Schools Inspire People to Learn to Read and Write—Schools in the Philippines—Great Revival Reported in Hingwa.

—By Southern Missionary News Bureau—
Ida Clyde Clarke—Editor.

Loren M. Reno, a Southern Baptist missionary, gives an interesting account of school work in Brazil, and the difficulties in educational work experienced there.

"The school books are so faulty that for doing good work we are obliged to make a course for all the primary grades. We have the teachers of our school here in the city working on such a course now. They are having a week of vacation in the school this week, and I have them in the office from 12 to 4 working. We hope to regulate by the close of 1915 at least twenty schools in our system and tie them to the high school (that we hope to open) in the city, and this to the Rio school, so as to have out regular system right through.

"Then we plan to bring boys and girls from the churches here and train them in the work and in the school. This will be necessary in order to get teacher for the better development of the schools. At present we are obliged to use as teachers what you would call illiterates, but if we await trained teachers we shall never begin.

"The present activity is along the line of parochial schools and better education. We have scattered plenty of Christian culture literature in the year, and the fact that so many cannot read it, together with the fact that more than one-half of those in the Sunday school cannot use the literature of the schools, has given our people a desire to learn to read and teach the children at least to read. The churches are opening their own schools and we are helping them a little here and there with the money given us by the board.

Schools in The Philippines.

"Though the public schools in the Philippines," says Rev. M. A. Rader of a mission at Manila, "were started under the American plan, they have been completely changed. Each boy or girl pupil is now required to learn a trade." One father asked permission to send a servant to the school to do the manual work required, declaring that his son could learn equally well by observation. This request, of course, was not granted. The boy soon joined his classmates at their annual tasks and became an enthusiastic workman. "American baseball," added Mr. Rader, has also had a marked influence for good upon the Filipino boys."

No "Kau-ke" Here.

"Hingwa is on a revival rage again," writes Missionary Henry R. Caldwell. "Thousands of people are seeking admission into the church. It is necessary to have two or three regular church services a day in the larger churches Hingwa city. Such an awakening has never before been known, and no one is able to explain the movement. There is absolutely no "kau-ke" in any way connected with it."

By "kau-ke," Mr. Caldwell means lawsuits or trouble of any kind because of which the people might seek the aid of the church.

"We are planning for a great time this fall on this district. The education work we are doing these months in preparing the heart field."

FARMERS WILL BEGIN CUTTING TOBACCO

Acres Only About Sixty Per Cent, But Quality is Extra Good

Many farmers in the county will begin cutting tobacco this week. The crop, in many instances, has been ready for cutting for several days but the work was delayed because of the heavy rains the first part of last week. While the tobacco acreage this year is only about fifty or sixty per cent of the usual crop, the quality of the weed is away above the average.

The long drouth of the summer rather discouraged most of the growers but the late rains greatly benefited the crops, and the chances are now the farmer will get top prices for his output. The tobacco leaves are of good dimensions and the body extra fine and the quality should greatly overbalance the short acreage.

Acute Indigestion

"I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mrs. M. J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for this complaint but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all dealers.

MRS. VADEN RUBY CLAIMED BY DEATH

Beloved Lady Passes Away After Short Illness of Pneumonia

Mrs. Vaden Ruby, widow of Mr. J. E. Ruby who has been dead a number of years, died at her home in Madisonville last Friday morning about 10 o'clock. A few weeks ago she was violently thrown from a carriage in which she was driving on her return from a meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. One of her lower limbs was broken resulting in a compound fracture. In a short time she was paralyzed and very soon pneumonia developed.

For more than a week there had been but little if any hope that she could survive the shock and the diseases that attacked her. Her death was expected and yet the shock to her friends and acquaintances when the news went forth that she had breathed her last, was none the less to the people of the town and surrounding country.

Mrs. Ruby was about 65 years old. Before her marriage she was a Miss Turner, the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Turner, of Princeton. Her husband who has been dead for many years was a well known business man and a church and temperance worker of the town. To this union there were six sons, Turner, Laurel, Walter, Dee, Clyde and Lucian, all living except Clyde, who died a few years ago. These children are all grown to noble manhood.

Mrs. Vaden Ruby was one of the very best women who ever lived in Madisonville. This is not said because she is no more, but because such is the fact. She had nearly all her life been a member of the Christian church and to her church and its ordinances she was devoted. She was a prominent member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. There was never a conflict between temperance and its foes that Mrs. Ruby was not ready and willing to do her part in the fight for right.

Mrs. Ruby's life was an unselfish one. She was devoted to her sons and reared them with tender care. To her, these boys owe all they have in the way of moral example, as their father, a good man, died while they were yet in youth. She has left for her sons a legacy that is worth more than all the wealth of the nation. She was a mother of whom anyone could and should be proud.

The funeral took place at the family residence Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by her pastor, the Rev. J. M. Gordon of the Christian church. The interment took place at Grapevine cemetery where she was laid to rest beside her husband and other loved ones who had gone before.

Rheumatism Pains Stopped

Get a bottle today! It is a family medicine for all pains, bruises, cuts, sore throat, neuralgia and chest pains. Prevents infection. Mr. Chas. H. Wentworth, California, writes:—"It did wonders for my Rheumatism, pains is gone as soon as I apply it. I recommended it to my friends as the best Liniment I ever used." Guaranteed. 25c at your druggist.

HE NEEDED THE DOUGH

One of our subscribers in North Dakota sends us the following clipping from his local paper.

"It is reported that one of the fastidious newly-married ladies of this town kneads bread with her gloves on. This incident may be somewhat peculiar, but there are others, and I am one of them.

"The editor of this paper needs bread with his shoes on; needs bread with his shirt on; needs bread with his pants on; but unless some of his delinquent subscribers pony up before long, he will need bread without a damn thing on—and North Dakota is no Garden of Eden in winter time."—Hardware World.

FOUL PLAY IS SUSPECTED

John Woodruff, a Prominent Business Man, of This City

MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARS

Adams, Tenn., Sept. 26.—News was received last night by J. B. Woodruff, a well-to-do farmer of Adams, of the disappearance of his son, John Woodruff, from Earlington, Ky., on last Tuesday night, and the failure of his friends and the police to locate him. The Woodruff boy, who is about 21 years of age, was engaged in the grocery business, at Earlington, Ky. with his brother-in-law, Howard Crosby, of this place, who is a brakeman on the railroad. Crosby, after returning from a trip the latter part of the week, went to the store, and, learning from the clerk of the absence of Woodruff, started an investigation. It is said that the man with whom Woodruff was last seen on Tuesday night made several conflicting statements when questioned about the matter. According to reports received here, the man said that he and Woodruff were together in a crowd Tuesday night and that there was fighting in the crowd, but that the boy took no part in it, but that he "licked the whole bunch." He is also said to have stated that Woodruff left Earlington on a north bound train Tuesday night. This theory is regarded by his people as unlikely, from the fact that all his effects were found in his room, and that one hundred dollars, which he deposited in a bank on Saturday, had not been drawn out. His family and friends here are very much wrought up over the matter, they being of the opinion that he has met with foul play.

ILLITERACY IN MERCER

People Attending Night Schools Which are Becoming Very Popular

Harrodsburg, Ky.—It is only a few weeks since the question of moonlight schools in Mercer first began to be agitated. The county superintendent, Miss Ora Adams, who was among the first to organize corn clubs, canning clubs and school fairs, took up the proposal to establish moonlight schools in a systematic matter, and as a result there are now ten of these night schools hard at work and they are attended by both men and women who were unable to read. Many of the latter can now read and many are rapidly learning to write. The schools are located in the country precincts and are becoming very popular. In another fortnight there will be a dozen more in operation.

MADISONVILLE WATER SUPPLY TO BE CUT OFF WEDNESDAY

Lake Practically Dry and This Step Necessary to Protect Light Plant

Rankin Eastin, superintendent of the Municipal Light & Water Co., notified the patrons of the plant that the water will be cut off Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Eastin stated yesterday afternoon that the lake was practically dry, there being barely enough water on hand to protect the city against fire and keep the light plant in operation for a short time. Mr. Eastin had deferred cutting off the supply, in hopes that heavy rains would render this unnecessary but steps must now be taken to protect the city from fire, also to provide for the light plant, and the supply is to be cut off Wednesday.

"MONEY TREE" DESTROYED

Civil War Landmark Near Shepherdstown, Md., Prostrated by Recent Storm

The celebrated old "money tree," two mile south of Shepherdstown, Md., was almost entirely demolished by a storm. Every limb, save one, was broken off, leaving a lone branch springing from the decaying trunk of what was once a mighty oak that had stood the storms of several hundred years. The giant oak has been a landmark ever since that section was first settled.

During the Civil war a Union army paymaster is said to have hid his money chest in a hole under the tree and then reported at headquarters that the money had been captured by Confederates. His story being doubted, he was convicted of stealing the treasure by a court-martial. He refused to tell what became of the money, and he served five years in prison without divulging its hiding place.

When he was released he went back to Shepherdstown by night, dug up the box he had buried, and carried off the treasure—some $65,000 in gold, silver and paper money.

A NEW GAS BOMB

A remarkable tale illustrative of wartime gossip comes from Paris of the invention by a French scientist of a gas bomb which kills every living thing within 300 yards from the point where it bursts. The story goes that the French are prepared to make use of the new invention if the Germans continue to use the dum dum bullet and sawtooth bayonet, which, it is alleged, they employ freely.

It is declared that the bomb was tried on 30 sheep. It burst 200 feet away, but all the animals succumbed to the deadly gas.

NIGHT RIDERS ON RAMPAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Todd and Son, Lawson and Grover Todd were Shot

AT CARBONDALE SATURDAY NIGHT

Saturday night about 10 o'clock a body of masked men, supposed to be night riders, called at the blacksmith shop of the Carbondale Coal Co., near Dawson, and at the point of a pistol, marched Floyd Todd and his son Lawton to the boarding house, kept by Mrs. Floyd Todd. On arriving at the house, one of the men put a pistol to the boy's head and told him to call his mother. The boy said, "Mother let me in," Mrs. Todd was busy about the house and her brother-in-law, Grover Todd, who went to the door with a 38 Smith & Wesson in his hand. As soon as the door was opened some one said "throw up your hands" and opened fire. Mr. Todd replied to the fire and claims to have shot a man standing in four or five feet of the door. A regular fusillade followed and Grover Todd was shot in the head, the foot and breast and is in a serious condition. When the mob saw that one of their men was shot they became infuriated and opened fire on Floyd Todd and his son Lawton who were out in the yard, Floyd Todd was shot in the hip and the boy in the back. Mrs. Todd also received a flesh wound in the arm. All during the shooting, cries were heard from the mob to get Grover Todd. After some time the mob drew off and Mrs. Todd with the assistance of some of the boarders got her husband, son and brother-in-law in the house and summoned aid. The injury to Floyd Todd was found to be slight. Grover Todd and Lawton Todd were brought to the hospital at this place Sunday afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Floyd Todd, and their wounds dressed by Drs. Nisbet, Sisk and Ross. Grover Todd is thought to be seriously injured and his recovery is doubtful. It seems that this particular bunch of "Inside Men" had nothing at all against the Carbondale Coal Co. or its management but were after Grover Todd personally.

WHAT THE EDITOR KNOWS

A good many editors are said not to know much, says an exchange. The trouble is they know a lot of stuff that they dare not tell. They know who drinks the beer and they know the ladies who deviate from the straight path of rectitude, and the boys who smoke in the alleys and dark places, and the girls who are out auto riding till the roosters crow for daylight. They know the fellows that are good pay and they know the fellow who can't get trusted for a tobacco sack full of salt. They could guess at once why some fellows are as they are, and they can guess pretty closely what they do to make themselves so. Even in a town like this they know enough to make one of the red-hottest, ripsnorting, high-gear, triple-action, chain-lightning editions you ever read.

They also know what is best you ever read, but they also know that it is best for the community and themselves to let the law take care of humanity's development and publish only such news as will do to read in the house. Editors generally pursue this policy and thereby live longer and get more enjoyment out of life.

Homemade Ink.

A good ink is made in this way: Bruise half a pound of nutgalls and stand in one quart of water, shaking it now and then, for about four hours. Then add three ounces and a half of gum arabic and when it is quite dissolved three ounces of copperas. To prevent the ink from becoming moldy when kept about three or four drops of creosote. This gives a pleasant-like smell to the ink and does not corrode the pens as chloride of mercury would do.

Colliding With a Planet.
Our small earth is not absolutely safe from collision with bodies in space, but is safe from collision with any planet in the solar system and with the sun. To be hit by a planet either the earth or the planet must leave its orbit. This is impossible, and it is also impossible that the earth can leave its orbit and fall to the sun. The earth is being hit by millions of meteors daily, from the size of pin heads up to the largest, several hundred tons in weight.—New York American.

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer
Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Important to all Women

Readers of This Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaint often proves to be nothing else but kidney trouble or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in back, bearing down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes you one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value should be a blessing to thousands of nervous-over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottle at all drug stores.

What They Thought.

The carter brought a heavy load of coal to the doors of an English county lunatic asylum, and getting no answer to his ring, entered and strolled along the corridors. No one was about, and, seeing a door, he opened it and stepped inside. No one was there. Then the door closed, and he found himself in a padded cell. Presently some visitors entered and peered pityingly through an aperture in the door. "Please open the door," he pleaded. "I've brought a load of coal." "Ah," said one of the party, "that's his delusion. Some think they are the king or the mikado or Napoleon Bonaparte. This poor fellow thinks he's a coal porter. Come along. Then they went on and left him.

The Water Clock.

The earliest application of the clepsydra principle to produce motion was by Tsang Hung, A. D. 126, who made an "orrey" representing the apparent motion of the heavenly bodies around the earth, which was kept going by dropping water. In the sixth century of the Christian era an instrument was in use in China which indicated the course of time by the weight of water as it gradually came from the beak of a bird and was received in a vessel on a balance, every pound representing a one-hundredth part of the day of twenty-four hours. About this time mercury began to be employed in clepsydras instead of water.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured

"My attention was first called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as twelve years ago. At that time I was seriously ill with summer complaints. One dose of this remedy checked the trouble," writes Mrs. C. W. Florence, Rockfield, Ind. For sale by all dealers.

Cracked Furniture.

Ugly marks caused by splits or cracked places in furniture are easily filled in with beeswax, and the mark is never detected. In fact, this is how furniture dealers cover such blemishes. First slightly soften the beeswax until it is like putty, then press firmly into the cracks and smooth evenly with a thin knife. Sandpaper over the surrounding wood and work the dust into the beeswax. This gives a wood finish or color, and when the furniture is varnished you will look in vain for the blemishes. It is better than putty, since putty soon dries, crumbles and falls out, while beeswax will remain forever just where it is placed.

Giving Birds a Chance.

If man's instinct as a hunter could have been diverted from birds to insects the history of economic affairs, and especially of agriculture, would have been very different. But he has continued killing birds, not merely as a sport, but often for greedy traffic, long after the need to do so passed away. The time has come when governments must take serious thought for the protection of bird life in order that plant life on which human sustenance depends may not be jeopardized and destroyed.—Atlanta Journal.

BERNHARDT AND ROSTAND.

Actress and Author Play the Alfonso and Gaston Roles.

A pretty story comes from France of a contest in compliments between Mme. Sarah Bernhardt and Edmund Rostand, the poet, in which the Alfonso and Gaston stunts are put to shame. Mme. Bernhardt telegraphed to a Paris newspaper that she had entered suit against Rostand because a poster of a cinematograph performance of his play "L'Algon" had been stuck up right opposite her Paris theater and would hurt her business. Mme. Sarah was most put out by the use of the title "L'Algon," which she claims belongs to her so far as concerns the stage.

The brilliant author of "L'Algon" seems to have been distressed at the anger which had been aroused against him in the bosom of the "divine Sarah," and he telegraphed her:

"I know nothing about the case, but I would rather cut my hand off than engage a lawyer against Mme. Bernhardt. No human force could make me defend myself against her. Whatever she wishes is right, and I grant her all the profits arising from films of my work. I kiss her hand, gracious as a lily."

This tribute from the poet evidently touched Mme. Bernhardt deeply, as it is stated that she promptly wired to the Paris press declaring her purpose to refuse to accept Rostand's moving picture profits, which are estimated at $40,000.

This is an interesting and signal instance of a soft answer turning away wrath.—Columbia Record.

FRANCE MAY TAX DUELS.

One of the New Deputies Has a Brilliant Scheme to Propose.

One of the newly elected Parisian deputies says he intends to propose in the French chamber the imposition of a tax on duels. His argument will be that duels are a form of advertisement and as such are as liable to taxation as posters and prospectuses. He suggests that duels shall be divided into three classes—third, second and first, in ascending order of taxable magnitude. For a third class duel, with the ordinary four seconds, a couple of general practitioners and a scratch in the forearm, the tax will be 50 francs. The process-verbal, or official accounts of the duel, must be written on paper stamped with a six-penny stamp.

For a second class duel, giving a right to decorated seconds—that is, seconds with orders in their buttonholes—hospital doctors and descriptive reporters, the tax will be 100 francs. There will be an additional charge of 20 francs per camera and 60 francs per cinematograph apparatus.

Those who desire a first class duel must be prepared to pay 2,000 francs—£80—to the fisc. But for that they are entitled to have umpires, a jury of honor, a famous swordsman as director of combat and a reconciliation on the field of honor to the accompaniment of a brass band or stringed orchestra. The singular deputy estimates that such a tax, loyally imposed and exacted, will bring over £1,000,000 a year to the exchequer.—London Globe.

Shot Dead by a Corpse.

On the road between Aarau and Wildegg the body of a young Swiss, aged twenty, who had committed suicide by shooting himself through the head, was found by peasants, who at once informed the police, as it is prohibited by the Swiss law in such cases to touch a corpse. A gendarme named Bodmer arrived on the scene and found the young man still holding the revolver with his lifeless finger on the trigger. Hardly had the gendarme touched the hand of the corpse to remove the revolver when a shot was heard, and Bodmer fell mortally injured. He was found to have been shot through the abdomen and died in the hospital a few hours later. He was the father of several children.—London Standard.

Alfonso's Forebodings.

The Countess de Cisneros, born at Brooklyn, is a prima donna of great beauty and of marvelous talent. She recently sang at a concert given by the king and queen at Madrid. At the close of the evening Alfonso XIII. complimented in English the delightful musician. "I confess to you," said the king, "that it has been the dream of my life to visit the United States. The rumor of this voyage has spread, but my government has interdicted this pleasure. I shall never see America except as an exile, and that certainly is a happening that I do not desire."—Cri de Paris.

He Was the Oldest Aeronaut.

M. Wilfrid de Fonvielle, who has just died, was the oldest aeronaut in the world. Two of his ascents have remained famous. In 1858 he established a record by remaining two whole days in the air between Paris and Compiegne. In 1899, in company with Gaston Tissandier, he made another record of a different kind by covering a distance of ninety kilometers in the space of thirty-five minutes. Born on July 26, 1826, he was approaching his eighty-eighth birthday.—Westminster Gazette.

Out of Date Anyway.

A correspondent writes us to know if we can give the origin of the old poem about the little child shyly clinging to its mother's skirts. We cannot, but it is terribly out of date anyway, for the present mother is so shy on skirt that any child would have trouble in getting hold of enough to cling to.—Portland (Me.) Express.

BAD ROADS CAUSE GREAT LOSS.

Bad roads cost the United States $7,500,000,000 per annum is the reported estimate of the highway commissioner of Ohio. He figures that the average cost of hauling one ton one mile on a good, hard road is 8 cents, while the present average cost is 23 cents, and in some districts it is as high as 54 cents. There is no doubt respecting the economy of good roads, but such estimating as the commissioner offers takes no account of the capital outlay necessary to get the roads. If the latter be built under the auspices and in the ways that have prevailed in the state of New York, there may be a loss of money instead of a saving. The matter is one of great importance to many mining districts, wherein wagon transportation is a high charge on ore production under present conditions and where auto trucks can offer but little help until the roads are improved.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

OILED ROADS FAIL UNDER HEAVY TRAFFIC.

Only a Small Proportion Constructed Has Been Successful.

As a matter of fact a very small proportion of the total area of oiled macadam pavement constructed has been successful. Under heavy traffic it rubs and waves very badly. It is my opinion that, even under the best conditions, this pavement has little justification. Oil has more lubricating than binding properties, and its introduction into a macadam pavement has a tendency to destroy the stability of the metal, writes an expert in the Engineering News. The successful examples of pavements of this class have been either in localities where climatic conditions are such as to evaporate the more volatile parts of the oil or where the application has been made in such a manner as to achieve the same result. Oiled macadam roads which have become so rutted as to be almost impassable have been converted into fairly good pavements by scarifying and rerolling, thereby aerating the oil and causing the evaporation of the lighter constituents.

For residence streets Oklahoma, Cal., is using exclusively some type of oil-macadam. The oil-macadam heretofore most generally used consists of the ordinary amount of macadam rock, compacted and treated with two applications of heavy road oil, aggregating one and one-half gallons to the square yard. The amount of oil is sufficient to produce an oil bound surface of about three inches in depth. This type of pavement requires careful workmanship, particularly in the matter of securing a pavement firm enough to carry heavy loads and at the same time sufficiently porous to admit the oil. With a widely differing character of the stone in common use, the daily changing weather conditions and the disagreement among experts as to the proper method of building oil-macadam streets, this attempt to build a two course macadam in one operation has been a serious problem. Results have generally been good, in many cases ideal, and in a few cases defects have developed.

ROAD BUILDING MACHINE.

New Self Propelled Device is a Remarkable Invention.

A $30,000 self propelled road building machine recently successfully tested abroad is reported to perform wonderful feats. The engine which does all the work is a six cylinder distillate burning gas engine of eighty horsepower, which operates a series of bucket chains that dig the soil to any depth down to eighteen inches, and the tooth armed buckets are so powerful that they will cut through a finished pavement if it be desired to rebuild old streets.

The earth is picked up by these buckets, carried to a mixer in the body of the machine and thoroughly combined with any desired binder, hot asphaltum or crude oil, and is then spread evenly and rolled and in one operation. A trailer containing the binder follows the machine, and it is necessary to have a string of them in readiness, as the device operates with great speed. The earth is dug up, mixed, relaid and rolled at the rate of fifty square feet a minute for an eight inch depth of asphalt pavement.

A very advantageous feature of this method of mixing is that it is uniform from base to surface, so that there is no danger of the surface's buckling. Of course where the mixture includes crushed rock it is necessary to spread the material before the machine. The chains of buckets are independent of each other, and as each has a width of six inches it is possible to form various combinations for roads of different widths.

Convicts in Highway Work.

The employment of able-bodied male convicts in highway work is recommended in the preliminary report which has recently been filed by the New York state commission on prison reform, appointed by the governor about a year ago. Several other employments are recommended for the convicts, and the conduct of all work possible under the so called honor system is favored.

Sold Hogs by Telephone

A South Carolina farmer had a large number of hogs which were ready to kill. The weather was so warm that killing was out of the question.

He went to his telephone, called a dealer in Columbia over Long Distance and sold his hogs at a good price. He then called the local freight office and arranged for shipment.

The telephone is now a necessity on the farm. You can have one on your farm at small cost.

UP WITH DYNAMITE

The office of the Bonanza, an afternoon newspaper, at Tonopah, Nev., was damaged by the explosion of three sticks of dynamite under the corner of the room occupied by the job printing plant. A corner of the building as torn off, a garage adjoining, was wrecked, and windows a block away were broken by the concussion. The damage to the job plant was slight. The newspaper plant is located in an adjoining building and this was not hurt. There has been friction between the members of the Western Federation of Miners and Industrial Workers of the World in Tonopah and Goldfield recently and the Bonanza has taken an active part in the controversy, favoring the federation members.

INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

SAN FRANCISCO

To be Given the Most Popular Teacher in Hopkins County

WHO WILL BE THE LUCKY TEACHER TO WIN THIS WONDERFUL VACATION NEXT YEAR?

The Bee has completed arrangements to send the most popular teacher on a four weeks' trip to the two big expositions in California next year, the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Diego. The Bee realizes that a trip of this kind will benefit our teachers greatly because 1915 will be a historic year, not only in American History, but in the history of the world. An event of a lifetime—1915—marks the completion of the greatest achievement of man in the history of the world—the Panama Canal. The completion of this achievement will be celebrated in San Francisco by the greatest exposition the world has ever seen: The Panama-Pacific International Exposition, in which the countries of the world will participate on an unprecedented scale.

The free trip offered will be educational and instructive as well as entertaining. The routes traversed to the Expositions and return will be through the "Fairyland of the West"—a magnificent trip by rail across the continent, through scenic New Mexico and Arizona where are found Indian pueblos, petrified forests, snow-capped mountain peaks and titanic chasms. The Grand Canyon of Arizona is the world's most sublime scenic wonder, miles wide, a mile deep and painted in all the colors of the rainbow; the old missions in California, with their sandaled priests and Spanish customs; the Panama-California Exposition at San Diego; Los Angeles with its many attractive sights and Orange Groves; then the great San Joaquin Valley to San Francisco and the Exposition.

On the way back via Nevada, the Great Salt Lake and the Land of Mormons, Pike's Peak, and the mountains of picturesque Colorado with their awe-inspiring grandeur. The trip of a lifetime. From an educational standpoint, the trip is truly a wonderful one.

THE PLAN

Here is the plan the Bee has prepared for sending the most popular teacher on this four weeks' vacation. Beginning in this issue the Bee will publish nomination coupons for our readers to use in nominating their favorite teachers. Cut out these coupons, fill in with the name of the teacher you would like to have sent on this big trip. The nominations will be held open for three weeks. The names of the nominees will be published each week.

Each subscriber to the Special Clubbing Combination Offer will be entitled to Mileage Stamps. Each stamp represents one mile of the journey to San Francisco. Ten Mileage Stamps will be given with each subscription, these in turn can be given to your favorite teacher, who will be provided with an International Mileage Book and the teacher who succeeds in getting the largest number of the Mileage Stamps in her book by the close of the contest will be awarded the Free Trip to the Exposition.

To make it easy to get enough mileage stamps to win this great vacation trip, the Bee has arranged with four of the best and most widely read magazines, Woman's World, Household, People's Popular Monthly and Farm Life. We will offer a year's subscription to all four magazines, together with one year to the Bee, at the special price of $1.25 for all five. Each order entitles the subscribers to ten Mileage Stamps.

Send the name of the teacher you have picked out to go on this vacation, then help her to earn the trip by having your friends subscribe for this big bargain and get as many Mileage Stamps as possible. Scholars, get busy and secure new subscribers for this remarkable combination clubbing offer. Help send your teacher to the Exposition.

RULES OF CONTEST

Any school teacher in Hopkins county can be nominated. Each issue will contain nomination blanks. Fill in the name of your favorite and mail or leave the nomination blank at our office. Every subscription to the Special Combination Clubbing offer will entitle the subscriber to Ten Mileage Stamps to give to his favorite teacher. Mileage will be given for combination orders only; no mileage will be allowed for a separate subscription for any one of the five publications in the combination. Subscription blanks will be furnished to the contestants and their friends at this office.

There are no restrictions as to territory in securing combination orders and mileage. The date of the close of the contest will be announced later. Ample time will be given, as the Exposition does not open until February, 1915.

The teacher having the greatest number of stamps in her mileage book will be declared the winner. For any additional information address, Free Trip Exposition Bureau, c/o Earlington, Ky.

Nominate your favorite teacher on this blank, then mail or leave at Bee Office.

THE BEST PROOF

Given by an Earlington Citizen

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they brought benefit.

The story was told to Earlington residents. Time has strengthened the evidence.

Has proven the result lasting. The testimony is home testimony. The proof convincing.

It can be investigated by Earlington residents. John Franklin, Earlington, Ky., says: "I had pains in the small of my back when stooping or lifting and I tired easily. I also had headaches and dizzy spells and had to get up at night to pass the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills proved their merit by relieving me. I have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills nor any other kidney remedy since they cured me some years ago. You are at liberty to use my statement as heretofore."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Franklin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Opposites.

"It's such a world of opposites," says an observer. "On one side the rich, on the other side the poor. On one side the laughing optimists, on the other side the walling pessimists. Here the gilded youth who won't do any work, there the ragged youth who can't get any work to do."

He paused, then ended: "Yes, a world of opposites. On the one hand we see an army of young fellows saving up to get married, and on the other hand an army of old fellows saving up to get divorced."—Exchange.
